FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

PP&L & NOOTER | Shared Values Drive Company Collaboration and Integration

[Philadelphia, PA] PP&L, a trusted provider of turnkey solutions for mission-critical projects in the Greater Philadelphia Area, is excited to announce it has joined forces with NOOTER, a nationally recognized turnkey and multi-craft construction, engineering, and maintenance contractor specializing in industrial and commercial sectors. This strategic collaboration marks a significant advancement in delivering unparalleled services to clients across the region.

With an exceptional reputation for quality, PP&L has long been the go-to choice for industry-leading Life Sciences projects in the Greater Philadelphia Area. Specializing in project solutions of any size or complexity, PP&L's team of dedicated account executives, project managers, and skilled tradespeople consistently deliver cost-effective solutions and guaranteed results.

"Joining forces with NOOTER presents an incredible opportunity to further elevate the services we provide to our clients," said William Loudon, President of PP&L. "By combining our expertise and resources, we're positioned to deliver even greater value and service to the Greater Philadelphia Area."

PP&L's commitment to excellence and client satisfaction remains unwavering throughout this union. Clients can continue to rely on the same level of personalized attention and quality service they've come to expect from PP&L, now with the added capabilities, resources, and reach of NOOTER.

"Our mission continues as we provide clients with turnkey solutions that exceed their expectations," added Peter Fassbender, PP&L Vice President and Director of Operations. "With NOOTER's support, we're better equipped than ever to solve the most challenging projects and deliver outstanding results."

Clients in the Greater Philadelphia Area can look forward to enhanced services, broader expertise, and streamlined solutions as a result of this merger. PP&L and NOOTER are excited to embark on this new chapter together and remain dedicated to serving the needs of their clients with excellence.
